"Thy Word is very pure: therefore thy servant loveth it."

"MY DEAR FLOCK,—The approach of another year stirs up within me new desires for your salvation, and for the growth of those of you who are saved. "God is my record how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ." What the coming year is to bring, forth, who can tell? There is plainly a weight lying on the spirits of all good men, and a looking for some strange work of judgment coming upon this land. There is need now to ask that solemn question— "If in the land of peace wherein thou trustest, they warned thee, then how wilt thou do in the smelting of Jordan?"

"Those believers will stand firmest who have no dependence upon self or upon creatures, but upon Jehovah our Righteousness. We must be driven more to our Bibles, and to the mercy-seat, if we are to stand in the evil day. Then we shall be able to say like David—, 'The proud have had me greatly in derision, yet have I not declined from thy law.' 'Princes have persecuted me without a cause, but my heart standeth in awe of thy Word.'

"It has long been in my mind to prepare a scheme of Scripture reading, in which as many as were made willing by God might agree, so that the whole Bible might be read once by you in the year, and all might be feeding in the same portion of the green pasture at the same time.

If there be so many dangers, why propose such a scheme at all? To this I answer, that the best things are accompanied with danger, as the fairest flowers are often gathered in the clefts of some dangerous precipice. Let us weigh

- The whole Bible will be read through in an orderly manner in the course of a year. The Old Testament once, the New Testament and Psalms three. I fear many of you never read the whole Bible; and yet it is all equally divine. 'All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, and instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be perfect.' If we pass over some parts of Scripture, we shall be incomplete Christians.
- Time will not be wasted in choosing what portions to read. Often believers are at a loss to determine towards which part of the mountains of spices they should bend their steps. Here the question will be solved at once in a very simple manner.
- Parents will have a regular subject upon which to examine their children and servants. It is much to be desired that family worship were made more instructive than it generally is. The mere reading of the chapter is often too like water split on the ground. Let it be read by every member of the family beforehand, and then the meaning and application drawn out by simple question and answer. The calendar will be helpful in this. I remind, also, when they meet, will have a subject for profitable conversation in the portions read that day. The meaning of difficult passages may be inquired from the more judicious and ripe Christians, and the fragrance of simpler Scriptures spread abroad.
- The pastor will know in what part of the pasture the flock are feeding. He will thus be enabled to speak more suitably to them on the Sabbath; and his pastor and elders will be able to drop a word of light and comfort in visiting, from house to house, which will be more readily responded to.
- The sweet bond of Christian love and unity will be strengthened. We should be often led to think of those dear brothers and sisters in the Land, here and elsewhere, who agree to join with us in reading these portions. We should often be led to agree on earth, touching something we shall ask of God. We should pray over the same promises, mourn over the same confessions, praise God in the same songs, and be nourished by the same words of eternal life.
